

1. Glazer, Lilla (1987) The Public Face of Architecture. London, Collier Macmillan Publishers
  - What makes a good public space
  - Why is it that some places thrive when others fail
  - Examples of good space vs poorly designed space and their location in the urban fabric
  - What type of people are in the surrounding area that would use the public spaces
2. Petersen, D. C. (1989). Convention centers, stadiums and arenas. Washington, D.C.: Urban Land Institute.
  - Differences in program and similarities of design
3. Mckean, K. (2004). Stadiums. Aethlon, 21(2), 75.
  - Their use and situation in the urban setting
4. Delaney, K. J., & Eckstein, R. (2003). Public dollars, private stadiums: The battle over building sports stadiums. New Brunswick, N.J.: Rutgers University Press.
  - New stadiums and who pays for such a large project
  - Why should a team that makes millions with an owner that is worth billions require funds from a public that 80-90% of won't utilize the facilities?
5. Baim, D. V. (1994). The sports stadium as a municipal investment. Westport, Conn.: Greenwood Press.
  - Can building a new stadium be beneficial for a municipality?
  - Can its use extend past the primary function of a stadium?
  - If there is an over focus on stadiums in a municipality is it fair for the residents to have to support an infrastructure that they might not want
6. Petersen, D. C. (1989). Convention centers, stadiums and arenas. Washington, D.C.: Urban Land Institute.
  - Benefits and negatives of each
  - How can the people use these "public" facilities when they are only open for specific events during the year.
7. Noll, R. G., & Zimbalist, A. S. (1997). Sports, jobs, and taxes: The economic impact of sports teams and stadiums. Washington D.C.: Brookings Institution Press.
  - Economic reach of sport stadiums
  - Can a sports team support a town and not vice versa?
  - What else can a stadium and team do for a community outside of the game
  - NFL stadiums (like new era field) are only used for ~40 hours a year for their intended purpose.
  - Is that having an economic impact large enough to offset the cost of construction

8. Powell, K. (1999). Architecture reborn: Converting old buildings for new uses. New York: Rizzoli.
  - Old to new and its importance in architectural history
  - Is it reasonable for

9. Fitzgerald, J., & Leigh, N. G. (2002). Economic revitalization: Cases and strategies for city and suburb. Thousand Oaks, California: Sage Publications.
  - Can stadiums be of benefit for the community outside of the scheduled NFL football games?

10. Professional Sports Stadiums: Do they Divert Public Funds from Critical Public Infrastructure? Hearing before the Subcommittee on Domestic Policy of the Committee on Oversight and Government Reform, House of REpresentatives, 110 Congress, First Session, 9/10/09
  - Discussion on the concern of public funded stadiums and their renovations
  - If communities that pay for the stadium to be built and have to pay for renovations, how can that be fair to the taxpayers